BONE MARROW TRANSPLANT COMPLETED ON AREA WOMAN

Appomattox County High School, was married on August 6th, 1977 to Christian Gallier of Appomattox, serving with the U. S. Navy at Norfolk.

When Connie left for The Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center, Washington to undergo the transplant necessary to survive the rare terminal disease which causes the bone marrow to stop producing blood cells, she was accompanied by her husband, her parents and her sister. Her father, Dallas Gillaspie, is the donor of white blood cells.

Although the only thought on the minds of family and friends is to get Connie well again, the fact remains that there is a tremendous financial burden. The operation will cost between $50,000. and $75,000, and of course the expense of living while the family is in Seattle.

A fund has been set up in Lynchburg to assist Mrs. Gallier and her family in meeting their financial obligations. The address is the Connie Gillaspie Gallier Fund, P. O. Box 678, Lynchburg, Virginia. Hebron Baptist Church, Concord, Va. has also set up a fund and tax-deductible donations may be sent to the Hebron Benevolent Fund, Hebron Baptist Church, Concord, Va. 24538.

It will be ten days or two weeks before there is more definite information as to the success of the transplant, but in the meantime, things are progressing as anticipated by her doctors. In the meantime, put Connie's name on your prayer list and send her a card at the following address: Mrs. Connie G. Gallier, Fred Hutchinson Research Cancer Clinic, 1124 Columbia Avenue, Seattle Washington 98104.

place.

Children enjoyed recreational activities such as: the electric swings, assorted games, and especially the W.O.W. train. "Smokey the Bear" and "Woodsy the Owl" made friends among the younger set this week end.

A variety of concessions were available during the Festival. This was a popular area as evidenced by the numerous early sell-outs.

Approximately 900 entered the Virginia Fibre Woodgussing Contest. 100 silver dollars was awarded to Jane Matthews for her exact guess of 46,900 pounds. 50 silver dollars was awarded to Charles Morgan and 25 silver dollars was awarded to Stella Carter.

On Sunday 18 citizens entered the Historic Dress Contest. Winners were: ladies, 1st place, Mrs. Tilden Lee; 2nd place, Mrs. Michael Shafer; children, 1st place, Miss Alison Lawson; 2nd place, Miss Joanne Jamerson; couple, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bartelt.

The 1977 Historic Appomattox Railroad Festival Board wishes to take this opportunity to publicly thank all groups and individuals who made this year's festival a success. It is our hope that this tradition not only be maintained but be improved upon in succeeding years.

AMS WINS SECOND PLACE IN PARADE

Railroad Day isn't all fun and play because all last week S.C.A. students and other students of Appomattox Middle School worked very hard to prepare for their float for Railroad Day.

Most of the students were making paper flowers while others were building frames, etc.

The title of this float was "Time Does Fly." The teacher helping them was Mrs. Dorety, without her the job wouldn't have been as well done.

Friday, October 7, 1977 was American History Day at AMS. They picked the best dressed students to ride the float.

Their compliements go to Jamerson and Sons Trucking Co., Poe Hdwe., Ben Franklin, and Marshalls Department Store. We also thank James Whitehead.

With help from everyone they won second place in the parade. Jill Franklin, reporter.

Attended DECA Training Conference

The Amherst County High School Chapter of Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) hosted an Officer's Training Conference for the DECA officers in eight of the area high schools.

Several Appomattox County DECA officers attended the conference with their Chapter Advisor, Mrs. Lorraine Burgess. Those officers who attended were Treasurer Linwood Elliott, Secretary Lisa Goin, and Reporter Jerry Trent.

Mr. Marshall Jones, Vice President of the Fidelity American Bank, opened the conference with a welcoming speech. Following Mr. Jones' talk the students were broken down into groups according to offices. One-hour workshops were then conducted, for each office, by members of the James Madison University Distributive Education Department. The workshops were followed by a slide presentation on James Madison University presented to all those who attended the conference.

The conference proved to be very beneficial and enjoyable to all those attending.
